

Dungeness Watershed Action Plan
Public Meeting hosted by Olympic National Forest and Dungeness Watershed Action Plan
Collaborative Group
Guy Cole Convention Center, Carrie Blake Park, Sequim, WA
Wednesday, February 8, 2012
5:30 – 7:30 pm

Meeting goals and objectives:

- To present to the community the watershed restoration projects and recreation study area developed by the Dungeness Watershed Action Plan collaborative group on National Forest System Lands.
- To engage community members as the Action Plan continues through the project prioritization, planning, and implementation stages.

Time	Topic	Presenter
5:30-6:00 pm	Open House	View maps of restoration and recreation projects and talk with Forest Service technical specialist's and members of Dungeness Watershed Action Plan Collaborative Group
6:00-6:10 pm	Welcome and Overview of Watershed Action Plan Process	Sharon Yeh – Acting District Ranger, Hood Canal Ranger District, Olympic National Forest
6:10-6:20 pm	Collaborative Group Involvement with Watershed Action Plan	Mike Anderson - The Wilderness Society, Senior Resource Analyst
6:20-6:35 pm	Summary of Aquatic, Terrestrial, and Recreation Restoration Projects and Trail Study Area	Scott Hagerty - Olympic National Forest, Soil Scientist Susan Piper - Olympic National Forest, Wildlife, Botany, and Invasive Plant Program Manager
6:35-6:45 pm	Next Steps of Dungeness Watershed Action Planning Process	Sharon Yeh – Acting District Ranger, Hood Canal Ranger District, Olympic National Forest
	Invitation to participate in a collaborative process	Scott Chitwood - Jamestown S'Klallam Tribe, Natural Resource Director
6:45-6:55 pm	Questions and Answers
6:55-7:30 pm	Open House	Forest Service staff and members of collaborative group available to answer further questions