Challenges and Opportunities

Potential challenges to the future of recreation in Utah

- Population Growth
 - Increase in urban cities
 - Decrease in rural communities
- Increase in demand for outdoor opportunities
- Low capacity by agencies, and recreation professionals to facilitate rising demands
- Developments in new technologies
 - Online resources/social media
 - Increased popularity in E-bikes, UTVs, and drones

Deferred Maintenance for Utah's National Forests is nearly $30.5 million in 2019.

While the population and recreation demands are increasing, the ability to maintain trails and facilities to an acceptable standard is decreasing.

Sharing with Our Partners

In 2018, Utah State Parks and the Paiute Trail Committee supported the replacement of deteriorating trail boardwalks on the Anderson Dairy Trail, located on the Richfield Ranger District. Partner funds were used to purchase boardwalk materials, and volunteers from the Paiute Trail Committee and other local ATV clubs helped Fishlake personnel construct the new boardwalks.
