

Recreation fees are an investment in outdoor recreation. Current and future generations will benefit as 95% of the funds are reinvested in the facilities and services that visitors enjoy, use and value.

Accomplishments Provided with Recreation Fees on the Lolo National Forest:

- Constructed furniture and a toilet building, and installed lightning protection for the newly remodeled Double Arrow Lookout.
- Restored and preserved the historic Morgan Case Bunkhouse with the help of volunteer groups such as Passport-in-Time and the Friends of Rock Creek.
- Constructed rail fence at Hogback and Morgan Case homesteads.

Special Feature

Have you wondered how people survived in the backcountry before the days of GIS and cell phones? Find out at Ninemile Wildlands Training Center, which hosts a variety of classes in traditional outdoor skills. Classes include care and handling of traditional tools, horsemanship and packing, historic building preservation and maintenance, and low impact backcountry stock use.
