The trail ends at the Rawah Trail (#961) near Rawah Lake No. 1 and after a junction with the north end of the McIntyre Lake Trail (964). McIntyre Lake is located a mile south of this junction. Camping spots can be found along the edges of the burn, along a short distance of the Medicine Bow Trail, along a drainage just north of McIntyre Lake, and in a large meadow located south of McIntyre Lake and east of the McIntyre Lake trail before it descends to intersect the Rawah Trail.
