

Native Plant Restoration

Shawnee National Forest

In 2005, the Shawnee National Forest developed a cooperative program with the Illinois State Nursery administered by the Illinois Department of Natural Resources (IDNR) to provide Illinois native stock, seed and seedlings of native grasses and forbs for use in grassland and wetland restorations and fire control line rehabilitations and to augment the restoration of 150 acres of grasslands/year for the next 15-20 years and to rehabilitate up to 50 acres of fire control lines/year in both forest and grassland communities on the Forest.
